students. Like typical bingo, they will be required to complete certain challenges on the squares. The challenges will be either mental or physical wellbeing. For example, one of the squares will encourage to walk/run/wheelchair 10,000 steps, other square will request to eat a healthy meal, and other squares will ask to watch a movie or read a book. The bingo will encourage collaboration between the students as well so they can complete the bingo squares as a group or individually. We know that wellness is the most important thing for future lawyers and we will encourage self-care during law school.
